Winter Group Show 2012

White Walls is proud to present the White Walls Winter Group Show opening February 11th, 2012. White Walls is celebrating years of continued success with a showcase of artists that represent the art we have long supported and always loved. The commitment to showing incredible artists is evidenced by the lineup of talent, featuring artists that we are honored to have shown many times in the past alongside artists we are excited to see more of in the coming years! An expansive collection of work will be brought together in one space, opening Saturday from 7—11pm, February 11th. The exhibition will be free and open to the public and will run until March 3rd, 2012.

White Walls Gallery has worked for nearly a decade to exist as the premiere destination for urban art in the Bay Area. Combined with the Shooting Gallery just next door, this 4,000 sq ft space is one of the largest galleries on the west coast. Justin Giarla founded the gallery in 2005 with a commitment to furthering the urban art movement, drawing directly from street art and graffiti culture. Named for its plain white walls, the gallery takes a backseat to the real focus: the work of our artists.
