There's Aliens in Our Midst

New Works by AJ Fosik

Opening: Saturday, June 11th, 2009 from 7-11pm

Show Runs Through: July 4th, 2009

White Walls Gallery is proud to present "There's Aliens in Our Midst" by AJ Fosik. An opening reception will be held Saturday, June 11th, 2009 from 7pm to 11pm. We are pleased to welcome back the Philadelphia based artist, AJ Fosik, whose prolific three-dimensional works subtly question assumptions of American culture.

AJ Fosik was born and raised in Detroit, although he calls more than one city home. Having lived in Brooklyn, Denver, California, and Philadelphia, AJ thrives in searching the American landscape for nuances of our culture. His sculptures address traditional American folk imagery with a psychedelic color palette, drawing the viewer into familiar territory while proposing new perspectives. Hundreds of wooden shapes are masterfully constructed into a confrontational, bestial sculpture. In a composition that references stuffed deer heads, AJ awards his trophy creatures with ferocity and vibrancy. Numerous sets of eyes and radiating auras of pop-inspired triangles shed fresh light on an age-old motif, putting the viewer in charge of reassessing their preconceptions of folk art.

Please join us for the opening reception of There's Aliens in Our Midst by AJ Fosik on June 11th, 2009 from 7-11pm. This exhibition is on view through July 4th and is open to the public.
